

Current Events – This course stresses critical and creative thinking while examining local, state, national and international issues that impact the global world. Projects will center around events happening in the news utilizing cooperative learning, technology, and peer interaction. Students are encouraged to complete outside readings including the newspaper, magazines and internet sources. Some websites to investigate are Patch.com (New Jersey, New Milford), NYTimes.com, NJ.com.